

(Cazenovia, NY – Sept. 25, 2023) Eric Cortellessa has written that with Donald Trump running again for president, “a 2024 campaign ... will be darker and more dangerous than anything Trump has authored to date.”

The campaign will be the subject of Cortellessa’s talk Friday, Oct. 6 presented by the Cazenovia Forum. Titled “The Politics of Retribution: An Update on Congress and the 2024 Presidential Election”, the talk will be at 7 p.m. at the Hampton Inn & Suites, 25 Lakers Lane, Cazenovia. The presentation is free and open to the public with a reception to follow.

Cortellessa says his talk will address “how the theme of comeuppance has come to animate the modern GOP, and how it will be a dominant theme in the year ahead.”

A staff writer at TIME who covers Congress and national politics, Cortellessa was previously the Washington Monthly’s investigative editor. His writing has also appeared in the The Washington Post, The Nation, Slate, The New Republic, The American Prospect, the Buffalo News and elsewhere.

The Cazenovia Forum hosts a regularly scheduled public affairs lecture series that offers citizens from Cazenovia and surrounding areas an opportunity to hear nationally and internationally known experts on a variety of key issues and to engage in thoughtful discussion.
